DEDICATION

The women who braved the unknown frontier to settle the sandy plains of Texas left to us an inheritance of strength, of loyalty, of courage. Many are the dreams which they made possible for us to realize.

Few of them could have foreseen such an institution as ours. Still fewer could have dreamed that their calm acceptance of their drab, hard lives would prove an inspiration to those who followed.

In the hope that we will be true to our heritage, we, the Class of '39, dedicate our book to the pioneer women of Texas.

FOREWORD

To those of you who will return next fall, may this book serve as a chapter in a history of your life at TSCW.

But to those of you who leave to return no more as students, may this book be a reminder of all the joys and sorrows that make up a year of a student's life. As you turn through its pages, may you remember the heart-warming closeness of many friends; the satisfaction of an important job well done; and the poignant sorrow of leaving a place that has been home for four years.

"CO-OPS"

TAKEN as a unit, the administrative officials of TSCW from the president of the college to the members of the student government association have proved themselves willing to serve the best interests of the student body. Not only are the students aided scholastically, but also they are given a certain self-assurance in their social and extra-curricular activities through the knowledge that they are supported by those officials.

The board of regents has taken an active interest in student problems and the ex-students association has been unusually co-operative in furthering the development of the college.

TSCW is indeed fortunate in having such executive counsel.

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT

L. H. HUBBARD

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
Denton, Texas

February 17, 1933

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Members of the Class of 1933:
To be educated is to be sensitive; not of course in the sense of being easily disturbed. As a matter of fact, now that you are being graduated you should have more poise than ever. But you should be more aware of the forces of life which press upon you, its beauty and its ugliness, its strength and weakness, its joys and sorrows, and better able to evaluate them.

May I leave this thought with you, so it is expressed in a poem, entitled, "A Picture", the author of which I do not know:

"Gray day, gray sky and dreariness
A tired woman and a fretful child.
"A crimson leaf tossed by a vagrant breeze,
A breath of something fresh and sweet and wild.
"A woman smiling through her weariness,
A little child with happy, laughing eyes.
"How close is heaven, when a crimson leaf
Can open thus the gates of Paradise."

Our best wishes go with each of you.

Sincerely your friend,
L. R. Hubbard
L. R. Hubbard, President

A MODERN GALAHAD

Dean E. V. White—always ready to listen to our troubles, always ready to lend a helping hand, is a time-tested friend to all TSCWites. During his 24 years with the college he has never lost that breadth of vision which characterizes TSCW administrative officials.

Mrs. Mattie Lloyd Wooten, Dean of Women, carries out the duties of her office with all the intelligence, foresight, and efficiency befitting the true executive. Her good-fellowship, tact and understanding manner are characteristics which have endeared her to all with whom she comes in contact.

A TRUE EXECUTIVE

AN IDEALIST

Miss Jessie H. Humphries, Associate Dean of the College, is a dreamer, a college pioneer, who, with her forthright spirit, her wisdom, tolerance and progressive idealism, has grown with TSCW.

Dearest Vera,

I'm not at all original and though what I say
has often been said before,
I sincerely mean it when I say it's be swell being your roommate. It's friends like you all that make life worthwhile -

I wish far more happiness and success -
Stay as sweet as you are and think of me sometimes

Lots of Love,
Elizabeth

Secret & True.
I really enjoyed
knowing you & struggle thru. I hope you are
I wish you were happy & healthy.

JUNIORS

JUNIORS . . . are proud of living in one of TSCW's oldest dormitories, tradition-filled Brack. The 1939 edition of the junior class is always well represented wherever there is fun or frolic to be found. But in addition to their having a good time, they keep ever before them the serious purpose for which they came to college.

Dear Uncle,
I have been a great success & have just and when you think of how many wonderful things I have done.

SOPHOMORES

SOPHOMORES... are lucky. They live in the new twin dormitories, Houston and Austin, and have proved themselves successful in making a dormitory more like home. The outside atmosphere is well taken care of by lines of cars that block traffic while their owners await the dormitories' popular residents.

FRESHMEN

FRESHMEN—Who was it that said there are few opportunities for romance at a woman's college? From the looks of these three freshmen and their cadets, there's plenty of opportunity, even in a dormitory living room. Maybe they're waiting for the dinner bell—maybe they're waiting for the missing fourth—maybe they're just waiting.

The primary aims of the Odeon Club this year have been to study the outstanding contributors to the modern school of music and to endeavor to bring music into the social life of the members.

The "Odeon Christmas Banquet" is an annual social affair of the club. At this time Dr. and Mrs. Hubbard and the members of the music faculty are honored guests.

The programs this year have consisted of banquets, teas, book reviews, and the study of various composers.

The aim of Le Cercle Francais, the advanced French Club, is to promote an interest in France and the language of that country by offering an opportunity for participation in activities that are typically French. French customs, festivals and mannerisms are incorporated into programs and the actual spirit of Carnival Paris, of the countryside and the people finds expression and understanding. Sponsors who have studied in France make this understanding even more sympathetic. The club's activities are both literary and social, and facility in class work is given by the conversational use of the language.

Melba

Just another day in the life of Mrs. Buchanan

A new system of selecting the TSCW beauties was tried this year. Working on the assumption that college men would know more about the standards of beauty for college women, five of the most outstanding students from A & M were asked to choose the six most beautiful girls from the sixteen selected by the student body. The judges were: Bob Adams, president of the A & M senior class; Andy Rollins, president of the Senior Honor Society; Warren Barton, editor of the Longhorn; Joe Boyd, outstanding football player; and Bill Smith, advertising manager of the Battalion.

BEAUTIES

MARGIE SMITH

A good example of the falseness of the old adage, 'beauty and brains don't mix' is Margie Smith. The senior beauty is one of the outstanding students of the school and was named to represent the department of Sociology in the Who's Who section of the Daedalian. Her main ambition in life is to be a woman lawyer.

SENIOR

CORINNE ZIMMERLY

A June wedding is the goal toward which this petite junior beauty bends all her thoughts. The man in the case is R. L. Marquis, Jr., known more familiarly as 'Bob.' Corinne's favorite sport is bending the long bow and her pet antipathy is cats, both human and otherwise.

JUNIOR

NAOMI BOUTWELL

Interested in everything and everybody, Naomi Boutwell makes friends of all with whom she comes in contact. Her spontaneous grin and hard-working ambitiousness will see her far on the road to success in the future.

SOPHOMORE

DORIS HARRISON

The attainment of a home, cozy fireside and a rather rugged male with whom to share such bliss is the main ambition of this dreamy-eyed freshman beauty. The green-eyed brunette, with her twin sister, was Aggie-day Sweetheart on the TSCW-A&M corps trip to Dallas.

FRESHMAN

EDITH EPPRIGHT

Poised is the adjective one instinctively applies to Edith Eppright, beauty-at-large from Charlotte, Texas. The tall slender senior's main ambition in life is to fly an airplane like her "Uncle George." Although she declares she is not the "man" type, and says "When it comes to men, I'd rather go horseback riding," Edith gets her share of fan mail from the opposite sex, one named Bill being the most insistent.

Jimmie is the main interest of Elsie Black's life. The titian-haired junior who was chosen beauty-at-large, can think, dream or talk of little else than her engagement and coming marriage. Her favorite sports are sailing and swimming and she collects silver as her hobby.

SPEECH

RUTH VOGEL

M U S I C

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Violin bows moving together with definite precision—brasses and wood-winds making tonal entrances and exits with the upbeat of the conductor's stick—muffled rolls from the tympani broadening in a crescendo to accent a brilliant passage—and the seventy-three-piece college Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of W. Gibson Walters nears the completion of its first concert performance of the 1938-1939 school year. Following the precedent set at its presentation on December 5, it has maintained its high perfection in performance throughout the year.

SERENADERS

Playing with apparent ease the latest swing tunes, the CAMPUS SERENADERS have been exposed often to the public eye on the campus and elsewhere—and the picture was good, judging from an increased demand for more performances—exemplifying the versatility of the Music Department and the Conductor of the Symphony Orchestra.

THE COLLEGE CHOIR

Always the College Choir has set and maintained high standards for performances, and this year, given the necessary incentive and inspiration by Dr. Wm. E. Jones, the director, both the Modern and Classic choirs spent many extra hours working out details which made for more nearly perfect performances over radio and in concerts. But music artistically and beautifully rendered was adequate compensation for all time spent in preparation. Choir trips to Dallas, Fort Worth, and San Antonio provided their usual diversions.

SENIOR RECITALS

With deeply furrowed brows and troubled expressions casting a dull light on a naturally bright and cheerful face, the senior music major, confronted with that ever-nearing recital, begins early in September the quest for music which will make her recital unified and appealing.

But selecting her music is only the beginning. Then come many studious and wearying hours of practice and work to memorize and perfect the countless number of pages of music which goes to fill an hour's program.

Four hours of mental labor on that Liszt Concerto is devitalizing and uses more nervous energy than one would dream of—It takes energy and strength to play octaves in accented runs, and every day must be filled with consistent practice; so maybe the musician had better take it easy for a while . . . and a bed is a pretty good object upon which to make an impression.

Weeks pass . . . then months. Both teacher and student work harder and harder—longer lessons and extra rehearsals—building toward a final artistic performance.

That night—the performer walks out on the stage, gets her breath and begins. In an incredibly short time, she is past the hardest number and the other favorites are quickly over. Suddenly, the efforts of a year or more are rewarded by appreciative applause, flowers, warm congratulatory handclaps of friends, and that hoped-for phrase from her friend and teacher—"You made me proud of you tonight."

Then the family goes home, and she is left with presents, friends and a heart-warming memory.

CLASSES

Squeaks from poorly tuned violins, blatant bel-lows from ill-used brass horns, eerie wanderings from a given pitch by the reed instruments, together with a harassed expression on the face of Professor W. Gibson Walters are evidences of the fact that the girls are gaining a practical (if not working) knowledge of all the instruments in the orchestra.

Realizing that hearing music is the best means of learning to appreciate it, Miss Vere MacNeal's students of Music Appreciation find adequate listening material in the record cabinet which is a prize possession of the Music Department and which is available to all students.

Expressing the spirit of Christmas as it is found in England the Music Education Classes, assisted by the Physical Education Department, sang traditional English Carols, danced traditional folk dances, and engaged in traditional ceremonies of passing the Was-sail Bowl and Bringing in the Boar's Head. Mrs. Persis C. Terhune, director of Music Education, supervised this presentation.

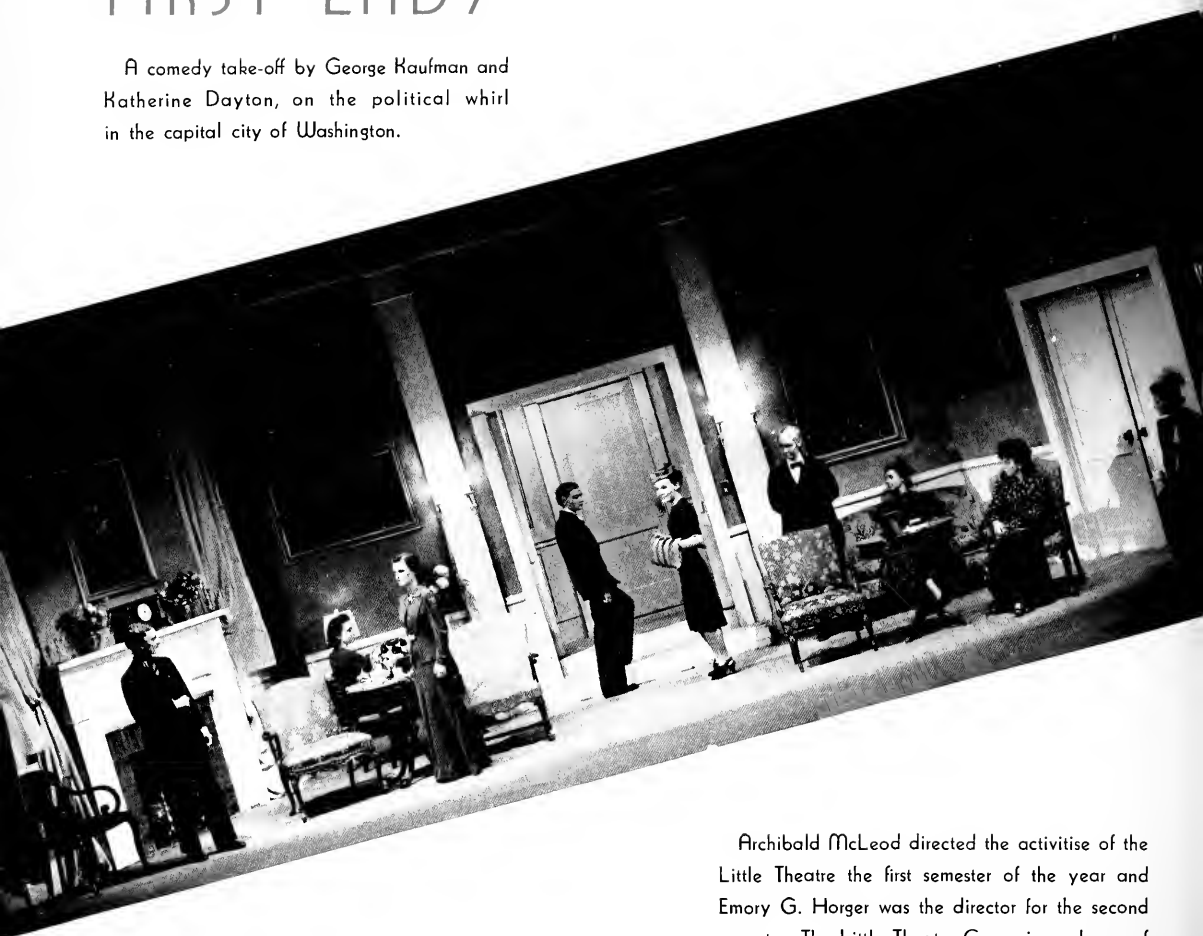

DRAMA

FIRST LADY

A comedy take-off by George Kaufman and Katherine Dayton, on the political whirl in the capital city of Washington.

Archibald McLeod directed the activitise of the Little Theatre the first semester of the year and Emory G. Horger was the director for the second semester. The Little Theatre Group is made up of seniors majoring or minoring in speech. For the five plays produced this year, Archibald McLeod designed the settings and the Play Production Class executed them under the direction of U. J. Ramsey.

GHOSTS

"Ghosts" is a tragedy of heredity; in it Ibsen reached the highest point of his art. He deals with commonplace characters and everyday scenes and most of the action is conveyed in drawing room dialogue. "Ghosts" is generally conceded to be the strongest, most terrible play in the nineteenth century. It was produced by the Little Theatre.

THE STORY OF THE CHRIST CHILD

Combining the speech and music departments, the Nativity Play was produced under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The pageant was written by Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the college, and was one of the most effective undertakings of the school year. The entire production was original. Songs for the pageant were composed by students in the music department. The college choir also assisted in the production.

Those people having the leading roles in the play were: Mary Frances Greenwood, Modena Lowe, Zelda Zinn, Natalie Simpson, Ellen Rohde, Ann Amthor, Ruth Fleetwood, Gladys DuBose, Ruth Vogel, Nancy Johnson, Jane Hudson, Ruth Harbuck, Lorraine Garrett and Mary Beth Scruggs.

LADY PRECIOUS STREAM

The Junior History of the Drama Class presented a characteristic Chinese play, "Lady Precious Stream," this year which was directed by Miss Mary K. Sands.

The leading parts in this play were taken by Marguerite Tatom, Martha Sue Frazier, Jean McAdams, Jean Ann Galloway, Dorothy Pauling, Luella Thomas, Frances Bollinger, Bert Ione Smith, Opal Caldwell, Sarah Smith and Mabel Davis.

The unusual style of production made this play one of the most outstanding and amusing plays of the season.

STAGE DOOR

As the Little Theatre went into rehearsal of George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber's play, "Stage Door," Mr. Harger, director of the production, found himself confronted with the problem of casting 32 roles. Leading parts went to Elizabeth Ann Heard, Marguerite Tatom, Jeanne Ann Galloway, Gayle Griffin, Maudeen Marks, Natalie Simpson and Virginia Lewis.

An IMPORTANT factor in the life on the TSCW campus is the production of three student publications: the Lass-O, student newspaper; the Daedalian Quarterly, literary magazine; and the Daedalian Annual, TSCW yearbook. All the work on these is done by the students themselves, and the printing, with the exception of the Daedalian Annual, is done in the college print shop.

A Publications Board determines the policies ruling the publications. This Board is composed of:

CELEBRITIES of national repute have been attracted to TSCW. Opera stars, senators, explorers, and professors give infinite variety to the college artist course and drama series. Artists give their initial performance, and come back for return engagements. This fact evidences the appreciation and cultural development which have characterized the school from its first years of existence.

CELEBRITIES

LILY PONS

Lily Pons, world-famous coloratura soprano, attracted an overflowing crowd when she appeared on the artist course. Already popular with the students, the petite singer left an indelible impression on their minds. Ranking high in the fields of concert and opera, Miss Pons has also appeared as guest artist on several radio programs, and has starred in three motion pictures, "I Dream Too Much," "That Girl From Paris," and "Hitting a New High."

SMEDLEY D. BUTLER

Smedley D. Butler, formerly connected with military activities of this country, and acquainted through experience with international military affairs, presented a lecture on "War is a Racket." In 1917 General Butler was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for the capture of Fort Riviere, Haiti.

T H E J I T N E Y P L A Y E R S

America's oldest traveling repertory company presented two of Broadway's hit plays, S. N. Behrman's "End of Summer" and Maxwell Anderson's "Both Your Houses." Heading the cast of the Jitney productions were Ethel Barrymore Colt, Douglas Rowland, and Bettina Cerf.

FRANCES PERKINS

Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor and only woman cabinet member, spoke on "The Labor Problem." Among the publications which have made Miss Perkins outstanding as a writer are "Women as Employers," "A Social Experiment Under the Workmen's Compensation Jurisdiction," and "People at Work." This was Miss Perkins' second visit to the campus.

ELISSA LANDI

Discussing the differences in acting methods, Elissa Landi appeared on the drama series. She is an author and a star of the stage and movies. Miss Landi was born in Venice, Italy, and has traveled extensively throughout Europe. She has appeared on the stage and screen in the United States, and has played in French and English films.

THE WELSH IMPERIAL SINGERS

Under the direction of R. Festyn Davis, the Welsh Imperial Singers appeared on the artist course. Called "Britain's greatest male ensemble," the Welsh Singers have appeared with success in Europe, Canada, and the United States. Each member of the group is a brilliant vocalist who has distinguished himself as an Eisteddfod prize winner.

LEW SARETT

Lew Sarett has served as a guide and United States ranger in the Northwest several months each year for the past sixteen years. He supplemented his lecture with selections from his "Wings Against the Moon," "Slow Smoke," "Many, Many Moons," and "The Box of God." The title poem from the latter collection is rated by Harry Hanson, literary editor of the New York World-Telegram, as a greater work on Indian life than "Hiawatha."

EDNA ST. VINCENT MILLAY

Edna St. Vincent Millay, America's foremost woman poet, made her second appearance at the college on the drama series. Author of "Wine From These Grapes" and "Conversation at Midnight," she was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1923 for her collection, "The Harp Weaver." Her sonnets, of all her writing, have received the highest praise and it is in this form that she prefers to write.

"PETER PAN"

Students of TSCW lived in a world of fantasy for an hour and a half when the Claire Tree Major Company presented James M. Barrie's "Peter Pan" on the drama series. Heading the cast as Peter, Leslie Gorall was the first boy ever to play this celebrated role. Although the costumes and settings were designed for children, the TSCW students were so enchanted by the fairies that when Peter told the audience to clap if they believed in fairies so as to save "Tinkle's" life, the applause was deafening.

RONNY JOHANSSON

Ronny Johansson, internationally famous Swedish dancer, was presented in formal recital on the drama series. Miss Johansson was on the campus for several days and gave daily instructions to dance students. She is acclaimed as a dancer with a superb sense of dynamic shading and a wide range of control. John Martin, dramatic critic of the New York Times has said, "Miss Johansson's talents as an artist are very special ones . . . She is a born lyricist."

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE, JR. vs. HAMILTON FISH, JR.

Progressive Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Republican Hamilton Fish, Jr., leaders in the Senate and House of Representatives debated on the New Deal in the Auditorium.

Young Bob LaFollette is a student of economics and is regarded as an able lawmaker. Mr. Fish serves as a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee and has made numerous speeches denouncing communistic activities in America.

TCU GLEE CLUB

Making a return visit by popular demand, the TCU Glee Club appeared on the Drama Series. Selections on the program were both classical and popular.

VICKI BAUM

Discussing psychology, Vicki Baum gave a lecture on "Why Be Afraid?" on the drama series. She is a famous novelist and the author of "Grand Hotel." While writing this, to insure correctness of detail, Miss Baum served six weeks as a chambermaid in a leading Berlin hotel.

JOHN MASON BROWN

John Mason Brown, outstanding New York dramatic critic, made a return visit to the campus this year because of his popularity with the students.

MARJORIE HILLIS

Marjorie Hillis, lecturer and famous modern writer, spoke on "The Art of Gracious Living" on the drama series. Miss Hillis, of "Live Alone and Like It" fame, created a new writing fad with her breezy style, sharp wit, and sound sense. She has followed her first best seller with "Orchids on Your Budget" and "Carned Beef and Caviar." Miss Hillis is associate editor of Vogue magazine.

THE PLAINSMEN QUARTET

The Plainsmen Quartet, staff singers of radio station WFAB, appeared on the Drama Series with a program of familiar music. They are very popular with the student body.

ANNY RUTZ

Anny Rutz, who played the role of the Virgin Mary in Oberammergau's famed Passion Play, gave an illustrated lecture on the play on the Drama Series. This was Miss Rutz' first visit to the campus.

MARIA
To T. J. G. W. Anny Rutz

STUART CHASE

Stuart Chase, co-founder of Consumers' Research, one of the executives of the Labor Bureau, and well-known writer, lectured on "The Economy of Abundance" on the Drama Series.

Many of Mr. Chase's better known books have dealt with the waste in this land of plenty.

ARTHUR POISTER

Arthur Poister, outstanding American organist and pre-eminent virtuoso, was presented in an organ concert on the Drama Series.

Mr. Poister, who has studied music and organ from some of the most famous teachers in the world, is best known for his deeper interpretations of Bach.

SPORTS

W R A

The Women's Recreational Association made headlines and took several steps forward when they voted to abolish the system of points and awards and changed the organization's name. Splash parties, possum hunt, folk dance festivals, open house, and cabin parties were among the association's activities. With Nellie Cleary as president and Miss Bonnie Cotteral, sponsor, membership of the organization reached a new high.

CALL 'EM IN GALS!!

Neighbors from all parts of the campus gathered in the Gymnasium early in the fall for a Corn Husking Bee. To the tunes of "Po Po Patch" and "Coming Through the Rye," happy laddies swung their freckled lassies.

Doffing their usual dignity, faculty members and students competed in hog-calling, chicken-calling, and corn-husking contests. It was the first social affair of its kind on the campus, and what fun it turned out to be!!

T.S.C.W. TAKES THE TRAIL OF "OLE MAN POSSUM"

With the scent of possum in their noses, over a hundred students piled high on trucks headed for the woods on TSCW's second Possum Hunt. Again the canines were scooped and Elaine White brought home the slick little animal.

The annual hunt was sponsored by the WRA under the direction of the Outing Club.

HOCKEY

Climaxing the field hockey season was the annual Texas-A&M clash. Tradition has it that this game always predicts the winner of the annual gridiron clash.

Managed by Edna Yarbraugh, this year's hockey season was one of the most successful of the WRA fall sports activities.

BADMINTON

Shuttlecocks fly, and badminton ends its second successful year as a WRA activity. Several rousing games with teams from Dallas were highlights of the year. Evelyn Schmittgens and Miss Virginia Bouquardez were manager and sponsor, respectively.

BASEBALL

Always popular at TSCW is that sport of sports, baseball. Following Spring Holidays, rookies got into practice. Then came one good tournament after another. Ruth Schmucker was the up and coming manager.

TENNIS

After a day in the classroom, there's nothing like a fast battle between racquets. This is true both in the case of faculty members and students, and the fifteen well-kept courts are usually full.

SOCCER

Neither wind nor more wind could keep ardent soccer fans inside, and tournaments continued despite old man weather. Soccer manager was Athea Lee Scott.

LIFE SAVING

Field Representative R. C. Plaisted's visit was the climax of the Life Saving Club's activities. Many students passed senior and examiner's tests. Miss Emily Cate and Beatrice Bloomquist were sponsor and president, respectively.

TRITON CLUB

Unique among the Triton Clubs activities was the program on which the members swam to the tune of nursery rhymes. Telegraphic Meets and Splash Parties were other activities of the year.

VOLLEY BALL

Under the leadership of Edna Schmidt, volley ball was a tremendously successful fall activity. Tournaments were held between classes, dormitories, and other groups.

GOLF

With the completion of a new nine hole course, golf became the sport at TSCW. Exhibition matches, putting contests, and numerous tournaments were the highlights of the year.

JUNIORS STAGE REGATTA

Boom! They're off! And TSCW'S annual water festival, the Regatta, takes the limelight. Sponsored by the junior class, the Regatta is held annually at Lake Dallas and is the splashing event of the spring.

Canoe racing, bobbing, tilting, single, tandem, and hand paddling and sailing are among the contests in which classes compete.

ARCHERY

To test skill and accuracy, there's nothing better than a bow and arrow and a target. It's plenty of fun, too, according to the WRAPers.

BASKETBALL

Always on the basketball court is a group of avid cagers with all the alertness and skill it takes to make the game what it is.

LOOK OUT MARTHA GRAHAM!!

Creating new suites and dancing their way to fame, the Modern Dance Club was chosen as demonstration group at the Southern District, American Association of Health and Physical Education Convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma. During the year, the club presented a Thanksgiving recital, Christmas program, and Spring recital.

Breakfast hikes, bicycle jaunts, skating parties, camera treks—and you have the story of the Outing Club. With Mary Lou Smith as president, the club doubled its enrollment this year.

OUTING CLUB

FENCING

On guard! It doesn't take long for the bout to become good and lively. Fencing was managed by Dorothy Huffman.

TUMBLING

HORSEBACK RIDING

Moonlight picnics, riding boreback, and polo games are among the sports enjoyed by those taking horseback riding. The stables are located on the northeast side of the campus, and classes are held twice each week under the direction of Miss Branch Williams.

SUSIE, ELLA, AND MARY GET THE "WORKS"

Susie, Ella, and Mary Freshman sat in the seat of honor at the Convention of All-College Night. As they rested their tired feet, radio commentator Elizabeth Robertson introduced all campus, club, and class officers. With the arrival of each demanding delegate, another "necessary" campus reform was noised around.

NEWCOMERS FOLLOW THE GLEAM

Blinking, weaving, the snake like lantern parade wound over the campus like a boa constrictor with a glow-worm complex. To tradition-minded TSCW the lantern parade rates five stars. Old girls light the lanterns that newcomers may catch a gleam of the "purpose true that lights our ways."

T W O P R E X I E S S M I L E

And so do the seniors and faculty who are guests of President and Mrs. Hubbard at the garden party which customarily opens the social season of the much-envied seniors.

And from the attitude of interest, that group around Dean White must be waiting for the new darky story he is sure to have.

Old acquaintances were renewed and new ones made under the spell of the Japanese lanterns.

SENIORS SAW THE DAWN (AT LEAST THE DAWN SAW THE SENIORS)

Scramble one Robertson smile, President and Mrs. Hubbard's friendly interest, and a Wooten conversation with lots of eggs and bacon and you have a bite-by-bite description of the annual senior breakfast.

According to the seniors, that statement about seeing the dawn was not a whit wrong.

FORMAL CONVOCATION

OPENS THE YEAR

FORMAL CONVOCATION—that day when white-clad TSCW searched out their favorite profs hiding behind vari colored hoods, mortar boards, and intelligent looks. Students took the proverbial back seats while their pedagogues carried off the honors of the day. This ceremony of pomp and circumstance officially opened the school year.

THE ALL-COLLEGE PICNIC

urns TSCW into the land of flowing hot chocolate and hamburgers. All thoughts of that sylphlike figure were swallowed along with quantities of onions, fritos, and fried pies. Students hobnobbed with the faculty on the common ground of hearty appetites.

Ghosts walked, witches screamed, jack o'lanterns grinned their toothless smiles, and black cats stalked as TSCW gathered in Lowry and Brack Dining Rooms to celebrate the annual Halloween Dinner.

Whether it is St. Patrick's Day, Washington's Birthday, St. Agnes Eve, or any other holiday, there are always music, decorations for the occasion, and all the trimmings on the menu to greet hungry students.

Seven minutes between classes is long enough to pick up a snack or get those necessary school supplies at

THE BOOKROOM

THE CHAPEL
THAT TSCW BUILT

Many a TSCW girl stood in line to taste those good ole Southern waffles soaked in maple syrup at the Waffle Breakfast in November, adding over a hundred dollars to the Chapel Fund.

Catchy signs such as the one above brought many customers searching for bargains to the Chapel Fund Rummage Sale in Virginia Carroll Lodge. Chapel Fund Managers sold everything from last year's shoes to this year's socks.

More nickels and dimes were added by cold drinks sold during sweltering September registration and at College dances.

LADS 'N' LASSIES

filled the campus with whoops 'n' hollers, shouts 'n' sighs as boy meets girl for the junior frolic preceding the Corps Trip to Dallas for the A&M-SMU game. We can't decide who looks the more excited—girls or boys, but it was one swell week-end!

The Aggies were dined and danced in Brackenridge Dining Room and the College Club; and of course there had to be those "times out" while the boys related just how they had that game "in the bag."

S W I N G I N G

from left to right and from right to left, jamming, jiving, jitterbugging, and just plain joying, they get into the groove with Floyd Graham's own Teachers' College Seventeen. "Excuse me, that's my foot." "Thank you, I'd love to." "May I cut in?" . . . and the night was filled with music!

Even though those smiles faded a little the next day, they fairly shone here. "Smile for the cameraman, kiddies; ah, that's the way." The "Shag," the "Susie-Q," and some of them were from Arkansas which of course brought out some fancy stomping. "Boy, whatta night." "Just wait till tomorrow" . . . yeah? Oh, well, what's a little ole football game?

Setting linotype, preparing the mails, cataloging the school's book supplies, mimeographing the numerous bills and announcements, checking the commissary, and ever so many other jobs occupy the hours of Uncle Sam's host of employees, the great body of the National Youth Administration. Approximately 700 girls are earning a part of their college expenses in TSCW in this manner, and statistics show that the majority of these students are maintaining a high scholastic average as well.

WHEN A LADY MEETS

Much too short o day, the A&M-TSCW Corps Trip, spiced with shiny buttons, khaki, parades, football games, and dances, was one of the most anticipated high lights of the year. Here was the chance to get better acquainted with those uniformed gentlemen from down College Station way.

All too soon, TSCW, blissfully tired and sleepy, turned home again, reliving the events of a perfect day.

T. S. C. W. TAKES A TRIP

With loaded busses, shrieking taxis, hurried phone calls, and last minute packing of those new dresses, TSCW forgets schoolday cares, parsley, bills, and eight-fifteen classes, and takes a holiday.

Whether it's corps trips, Thanksgiving, Christmas, spring holidays, or just any week end, it's the same hurry-scurry of leaving for gay times.

THSPA GOES TO TOWN

When members of the Texas High School Press Association arrived on the campus, things livened up around the "ole" college. The vim, vigor, and vitality of these youngsters made one wish for the enthusiasm of their high school days.

It was dangerous to get caught without that tooth brush ad smile flashed on, for delegates persisted in taking pictures of everybody and everything.

JOY IS MINGLED SOLEMNITY AT

The Nativity Pageant, as written by Dr. L. H. Hubbard, instilled the essence of Christmas in the student body this year when it was presented for the second time. So beautifully was it given that the audience forgot it was a play and felt keenly each incident portrayed by the actors.

The white breakfast was, as always, impressive in its solemnity. The dining hall, transformed by the gigantic blue and silver tree, was the perfect background for the procession of carollers winding among the tables of white-clad figures, their voices finally fading into the distance.

WITH CHRISTMAS

The Ad Building resounded with "Joy to the World" and other carols for thirty minutes each day during the week preceding Christmas. The songs, started by the girls grouped around the tree on the main floor, were picked up and echoed by the singers hanging over the balustrades on the third and fourth floors.

Santa is a busy man 'come Christmas time at TSCW.' But a jolly, plump old gentleman was present at each of the dormitory Christmas parties a few nights before the students left for home.

TEXAS AND TSCW PAY TRIBUTE

"Marking a trail in a pathless wilderness, pressing forward with unswerving courage, she met each untried situation with a resourcefulness equal to the need. With a glad heart she brought to her frontier family her homeland's cultural heritage. With delicate spiritual sensitiveness she illuminated the dullness of routine and the loneliness of isolation with beauty and with life abundant and withal she lived with casual unawareness of her value to civilization. Such was the Pioneer Woman, the unsung saint of the nation's immortals."—Inscription.

JUNIORS MAKE "HEY-HEY"

Junior Daisy Maes and their Lil Abners "hoedowned" all over the hay barn gym at the annual junior barn dance. Everyone came a la rurale, even to the snaggle tooth grins and Bull Durham "plugs." Guest of honor, Old Gray Mare, grinned approval over sagging clothes lines and bales of hay.

IT'S AN OLD NEW ORLEANS CUSTOM

Using the carnival atmosphere of old New Orleans, TSCW misses disguised themselves and reveled in the gaiety of their own Mardi Gras. The highlight of the evening at Lowry came when President Hubbard crowned Rosemary Polk queen. She and King Anita Doyle reigned over Lowry festivities.

BUT TSCW DOES IT NOW

Crowned by Dean White, Queen Betty Keneipp ruled over Brack with King Christina Drummond. After midnight the Mardi Gras was only a memory, but everyone still remembers it, for only at a Mardi Gras could Humpty-Dumpty dance with Marie Antoinette, and Sir Walter Raleigh with Raggedy Ann.

Ellen Rohde and Elizabeth Robertson, official delegates to the NSFA convention at Purdue University, La Fayette, Indiana, rehash convention experiences. The broad grins are more than probably due to remembering Wayne King's dedicating "The Eyes of Texas" to them at the Gold Coast Room in Chicago.

"OFF GUARD"

Faculty members forget to stay 'on guard' most of the time at TSCW and are more delightful people to know for that very reason. Students discover human beings behind the pedagogical airs when the faculty takes time out to relax.

CRAM AND EXAM WEEK

Long library hours, beds piled high with books, good luck charms, and earnest students, last minute rushes to read books which should have been read weeks ago, eyes red and drowsy from midnight study, all proclaim to the initiated that that time is here again—that period in the life of each TSCW-ite known as dead week.

Frantic study in almost any strange place and position marks the determination of each student to learn in a week what should have been learned over a whole semester. Solemn vows to keep up throughout the whole term the "next time," if only this time passing grades on finals are bestowed by the gods of good fortune.

Even ten o'clock snacks are introduced to persuade tired minds and bodies to continue the grind—"Cokes" and various other "stay-awake" remedies are kept on hand—and then the time has come. Only the knowledge in each tired head can help Miss TSCW now. "I wonder what that question means? It must be something from the outside reading."

"Oh, what a grand and glorious feeling—I'm through with my exams!!!"

"MAN WORKS FROM
SUN TO SUN,
WOMAN'S WORK
IS NEVER DONE"

This might well be the theme song of the home economics majors who must stay in one of the training cottages before they receive a degree. Six weeks of making beds, dusting chairs, planning meals, peeling potatoes, etc., give the girls a real-life sample of what running a home means.

Of course there are times when the work is done and the housekeeper can relax. She has time (or takes it) to comb her hair and do the myriad of mysterious things that make TSCW girls 'stand out from the crowd.' Then comes the evening: good books to read, some last minute figuring on next week's budget, a few finishing touches on the new table cloth, a soothing radio program, a smothered yawn—and so to bed until another day—.

Down—and the many duties renew their hold on the novice . . . again she makes beds, sweeps floors, dusts and cooks. But take heart girls, it's only four weeks, two days, nine hours, and thirty-six minutes until your term is up.

DEAN WHITE HAS A BIRTHDAY

And all TSCW helps him celebrate. Students and profs flock to the annual picnic celebrating his twenty-four years with the college. Judging by the picture, hamburgers are a favorite with the genial dean.

Perhaps it's the latest development in international crises or perhaps it's just spring weather and ice cream that have absorbed the attention of Dr. Judd, President Hubbard, and Dr. Lang.

BEAUTY ON PARADE

Sixteen lovely ladies, chosen by popular vote from their respective classes, paraded before a quintet of outstanding Aggies.

For the first time the beauties were selected before a student audience on the TSCW campus.

During their stay on the campus, the judges were guests at a tea dance and later attended the Round Table Farnal.

The seniors gave forth with a rollicking comedy packed full of sublety and satire, based on the recent Texas election. The audience got their share of real laughs when "Dolly T. O'Maniel" swung the election with the platform of a sixty dollar pension every Sunday to everyone over twenty years of age.

Maybe least, but certainly not last were the lively, wide-awake freshmen with their "Seashore Sallies," a sparkling extravaganza of love, laughter, terpsichorean displays and delightful music, all to the background of sea nymphs, mermaids and a yellow moon.

To be well dressed and yet stay within your budget is the aim of every college girl.

And here they are, folks, the winners—An exclusive peek at one of the scenes that won the day. These sophomores fairly showed the whites of their eyes when they got on that stage. They tasted victory last year, and it was just too sweet to relinquish. More power to you, Class of '41! It was a splendid show, excellently produced, and effectively presented, even to the pinch-hitting in the second act by one of your members.

Ingenuity is the word for the clever production presented by the junior class. Its catchy lines, and its Latin-American flavor made "Panning America" a skit of real and notable entertainment.

Just call 18 for a quick transfer of your trunks and luggage on leaving and returning to school.

WEBSTER'S TRUCK LINES

SATURDAYS

Saturdays at TSCW are a queer mixture of work and play. Up in time for a hasty breakfast—a quick dash to the library for a last minute peep at a lesson—then one or two classes. Naturally, a trip to the P. O. is next and then off to town for a bit of shopping or a show. Waiting for the 'goose' on the corner is one of the bugaboos of life, especially in cold or windy weather.

Our stores, both in town and on your campus, have but one aim—service.

But for some, Saturday is the time to clean house, or sleep, or practice. And if you don't get your laundry, the weekend is a dismal one. Some take to bicycles or tennis or some have dates. But whatever way the day is spent, it is a TSCW habit to wind up Saturday with a snack at one of the campus stores or a feast in someone's room.

CHARM IN THE MAKING

Emphasizing the cultivation of poise, personality, and physical charm, TSCW's first official week of Self-Development was held this spring. Outstanding authorities on the finer details of social graces and charming personalities lectured on various phases of self-improvement.

Under the auspices of the department of Physical and Health Education, a Posture Clinic was held to educate students in the art of graceful carriage. For many days half of the student body went to classes with books on heads and did daily dozens to keep fit figures.

Also as a part of the week's program, approximately ninety students presented a style show, displaying fashionable new wardrobes of moderate and inexpensive price ranges, furnished by the local stores for the occasion.

Climaxing the week of emphasis upon the importance of charm, TSCW held the memorable Festival of the Redbud in which sixty Redbud princesses participated. From this number, Ruth Vagel of the senior class was chosen to reign as the first Queen of the regal redbud. Henceforward the redbud will be honored with an annual festival glorifying all the beauties and wonders of spring on the TSCW campus.

CAMPUS CAMPAIGNS

No national campaign could beat the rootin' tootin' zest of an election race on this campus. In spring, thoughts of TSCW lassies not only turn to frilly frocks and boy friends, but also to STUDENT ELECTIONS. Handbills, posters, banners cover every available spot permitted. Electioneering is rampant.

Patsy Childers, in charge of elections, tells students about voting rules.

Freshmen in the balcony look down on an auditorium full of "Vote For" signs.

LET'S GO TO THE LAKE

Is the cry every weekend when a crowd dons slacks and shirts and climbs aboard the truck to go to the TSCW camp at Lake Dallas. All night bull sessions and midnight snacks take the place of intended sleep.

HERE AND THE TSCW

THERE ON CAMPUS

AFTER FOUR

Supposedly sophisticated seniors and even more dignified faculty drop their party manners and become just folks in this hilarious senior picnic every spring. Boxes loaded with goodies for everyone, rick-rack contests, and kid games lend an air of informality to the gay time. Fun is the main object and nothing stands in the way.

Later on in the spring, the senior formal marks the zenith of all occasions for the seniors. Perfectly gowned in the latest fashion and equipped with their very best boy friend, the sophisticates resume their air of grace and culture, forgotten on the picnic. As the saying goes, "anything can happen at the formal." So young hearts every spring beat in happy expectation of that gala hey-dey—the "formal."

YEARS . . .

The Senior Formal Garden Party is looked forward to almost as much as is the formal itself. Both faculty and seniors blossom forth in new spring attire and enjoy the occasion to the fullest.

At last the long-looked-for day arrives, and the seniors parade officially for the last time down the Ad Building Hill. Down the aisle they march as college girls, to come back up the aisle a few minutes later as college graduates. A few tears are shed and a lot of smiles gleam through as college girls become, in the eyes of the outside world, college women.
